You're right! Abraham and Dinah Friend begat Isaiah Friend who married Leah (blank) who had a bunch of sisters, one of whom, Caroline (blank), married Lewis Hamburg. Thus Dinah Friend was Leah Friend's mother-in-law, not mother. Anyway, it looks as if this cluster of Friends had only one first name, Leah, in common with your cluster. I'm getting cognitive vertigo from this. (However, I have proof that my great grandfather Aaron Mandelbaum married a cousin also named Mandelbaum, so it could happen.) See attached lovely 1895 photo of Rita and Rose, sisters of Leah Friend. Now that I know who they are, the photo becomes priceless. It took 50 years to figure it out.

Interesting! But how could Dinah Friend be Leah Friend's mother? Wouldn't they have different last names if Leah took her husband's last name?

And so Caroline's maiden name was Friend?

Subject: Leah Friend from England 1911, Isaiah, Abraham

Leah Friend, (daughter of Dinah Friend,) mother of Sam and Connie, sister of Caroline Hamburg, married Isaiah Friend, son of Abraham

See attached 1861, 1871 English census, previous theory/summary

1. Mother of Sam and Connie Friend (will of Lewis Hamburg, my great uncle) was Leah Friend listed as Hebrew in 1911 passenger list, was sister of Lewis Hamburg's wife Caroline Hamburg, all from England
2. Leah Friend's Husband was Isaiah Friend, born 1860 in England (England census 1861, 1871, 1901) he died between birth of Sam in 1905 and emigration of Leah and children in 1911
3. Leah Friend, born 1869 in England mother was Dinah Friend born 1834
4. Isaiah Friend, born 1860 England,
5. Father of Isaiah Friend was Abraham Friend, born 1831
