and engaged in merchandising. July, 1876, came to Hastings, Neb., and engaged in grain. In 1879 he came to Blue Hill, built this elevator, and has since been engaged in this business.

JOHN S. MCCLELLAND was born in Scotland, and there raised. In 1864, he came to Oxford, Canada. In the fall of 1879 he came to Blue Hill, and built the Central Hotel. Enlarged this house in the spring of 1882, and sold it. He was married in 1850 to Margaret Mathison, of Scotland. They have six children--one son and five daughters.

SOLOMON MANDELBAUM, manager for M. Weinberg & Co., general merchandise, was born in Saxony, Germany. Came to Cincinnati in 1860, and there learned the cigar trade. In 1863, he came to Chicago, and worked at the business two years. He then started a cigar factory, and employed from ten to fifteen hands. He continued this business for about five years. Also carried on the furniture trade about eight years. In 1876 he came to Hastings, Neb., and was manager of the firm of M. Weinberg & Co. about three years. He then came to Blue Hill, and opened this store, where he has since been in charge of this business. He also opened a branch store for this firm at Ayr, which is now in charge of one of his clerks. He was married December, 1868, to Miss Adaline, daughter of David Weinberg. She was born in New York City. They have two children--Carrie and Jacob.

G. M. MOREY, agent for the Burlington & Missouri Railroad and American Express agent, was born in Lyons, Wayne County, N. Y., and came with his parents to Missouri in 1859. His father was agent for the Hannibal & St. Joe Railroad at Shelbina, Mo., during the war. They then returned to Rochester, N. Y. They afterward removed to Danville, N. Y., where he was employed as Teller in a bank. In 1867 the family returned to Missouri, and engaged in farming. About 1868 he commenced to learn the telegraph business in Osborn, Mo., and has been engaged in railroad business most of the time since. Since 1876 he has been in the employ of the Burlington & Missouri Railroad. Took charge of the station September 5, 1879. Was married in October, 1879, to Miss C. B. Williams, of Forest City, Holt County, Mo. They have one daughter--Maude.

R. A. Simpson, of the firm of Simpson & Sweezy, bankers, was born in Ontario County, N. Y. He came to Clinton County, Iowa, in 1872, and there taught school and carried on a farm. In 1879 he came to Blue Hill, where he has since been engaged in loans, real estate, and banking.

- 12 M ii. Solomon MANDELBAUM.
- + 13 F iii. Jennie MANDELBAUM-FINKELSTEIN.
- 14 M iv. Moses MANDELBAUM.
- 15 F v. Rosa MANDELBAUM.
- 16 F vi. Juiia MANDELBAUM.
- 17 F vii. Lena MANDELBAUM was born on 10 Oct 1839 in Sachsen-Weimar.

Lena married Aaron MANDELBAUM<sup>1</sup>, son of Daniel (Gedalia) MANDELBAUM and Jachet(Hattie) BLAU. Aaron was born on 3 Aug 1837 in Gehaus, Sachsen-Weimar, Germany. He died on 14 Nov 1926 in Chicago, Cook, Illinois.

Aaron Mandelbaum, son of Daniel, was born in Sachsen, also known as the kingdom of Saxony, now a part of East Germany, on the 14th of August, 1837, His wife Lena was born-in Sachsen also, on the 10th of October 1839.

Aaron is said to have had 6 or 7 brothers. Of these, the following are known: Solomon, born the 10th of December, 1843 in Saxony, and Jacob, born the 6th of January, 1852

Germany. (Gehouas, Sachsen-Weimar)

Simon Mandelbaum and Aaron were the first two Mandelbaums listed in the city directory of Chicago, apparently arriving in 1864 or 65 and Simon is probably Aaron's brother. Simon's gravestone at the Free Sons of Israel Cemetery in Forest Park, Ill, In ,a plot very near to Aaron, Lena, and the daughter Irene, is inscribed with the following: "Simon Mandelbaum, born in Gehaus Sachsen W. Germany, Dec. 21, 1836, Died Jan. 17, 1890, in Chicago." The same birthplace is listed on the stone of David Mandelbaum, born in 1816; David was probably the brother of Daniel, Aaron's father. See the narrative summary of David for more details.

Aaron came to the United States at about the age of 18 In 1852 with his 17 year old brother, Moses, on the clipper ship Orpheus. The first record of him in America is the city directory of Cincinnati, Ohio, where In 1863 he i a cigar maker boarding at 37 Clinton street. This is the me address where a Moses Mandelbaum is listed as a boarder i 1864, and therefore Moses and Aaron can be assumed to be related. Perhaps Moses was another of the brothers. It is known that 4olomon Mandelbaum was also in Cincinnati during this period, learning the cigar trade. Another MandelBaum in Cincinnati was a Samuel Mandelbaum at 477 Plum street in 1865. According to an old map, this address is but a few blocks away from the Clinton street house.

Aaron started his business of "cigars and to tobacco" In Chicago in 1865,,fit 111 West Madison street, the heart of the business district. His brother Solomon was in the store next to him at 109 W. Madison in 1866 as an umbrella manufacturer. It is significant that Daniel Mandelbaum, their father, was an umbrella manufacturer also when he first appeared in the City directory in 1874. Aaron continued in the cigar business at the Madison street store until about 1869 when he moved to 61 West Van Buren street where he was in the stove and furniture business. His brother Jacob boarded at the store with him from 1869 through 1871, suggesting that perhaps Aaron's family lived at the store much as his son Jacob Daniel Mandelbaum would do at his hardware store later, Meanwhile, Aaron married his cousin Lena, also a Mandelbaum, it is said. Their first child was Emma, born in 1868 in Illinois, who married Charles James Louis Maerker. Aaron and Lena's second child was Hannah, born in Chicago in October of 1869. She married Herman Well, son of Julius and Helen Well, Before the 3rd child was born, the great Chicago Fire occurred and destroyed Aaron's store and possibly his home, A newspaper account from that time has been researched which tends to document the catastrophe:

"Chicago, Oct. 1871--12:30 a.m. The most terrible conflagration that ever occurred in this city broke out about an hour and a half ago, and having already swept over six entire blocks is still raging with almost unabated fury. The fire started in a large planing mill situated between Clinton and Canal and Van Buren and Jackson streets,"
"Later, 1:30 a.m. ---The fire is apparently raging as fiercely as ever. A block of buildings on the north side of Van Buren Street, which was thought an hour ago would be saved, are now wrapped in flames..... The glare from the buildings lights the streets so one may see to read a half a mile away..."
"Chicago, Oct. 9---The whole business portion of the city is in ashes, from Harrison street north to Chicago Avenue, and east of the river to the lake, an area three miles in length, and a mile to a mile and a half in width..... 50,000 people are homeless, most of them in a destitute condition."
In 1872, Rosa, the 3rd child of Aaron and Lena was born, Her child was Harry Solomon and her common law husband was Phillip Solomon.
The next mention of Aaron Mandelbaum in the city directory is in 1874 when he was a clerk for Childs and Baer. His residence was at 13 English street, Irene Mandelbaum, the 4th child of Aaron and Lena, was born Dec.25, 1874, She died, unmarried and without issue, by her own hand it is said, June the 10th, 1903, at the age of 28. A large tree-trunk shaped stone marks her grave near. Aaron and Lena at Free Sons, A photograph of her gentle face is cast in ceramic in the grave stone.

Jacob Mandelbaum, who gave himself the middle name Daniel after his grandfather, to distinguish himself from the other Jacob Mandelbaums, his cousins and uncle, was born the 5th child of Aaron and Lena in Illinois, The date was the 15th of September, 1877, according to the Grand Secretary of the Masons,

Aaron and his family were next recorded in the 1880 census in Dyer, Lake county, Indiana. Aaron was listed as a peddler. Lena, Aaron's wife, died at the birth of their 6th child, Theresa, the 13th of March 1884, She was only 44, Her gravestone stands in good condition at the Free Sons cemetery. The date of the infant's death has not been discovered,

In 1886, Aaron and his family had moved back to Chicago, where he was listed as a peddler, living at 86 Newberry Avenue,

A second listing the same year was Aaron Mandelbaum, travel agent, living at 292 W. 14th street. The meaning of this second listing is unclear. In 1893, Aaron Mandelbaum was listed as a salesman, residence, 48 Hastings street. His daughter Emma Mandelbaum was a clerk this year at 122 Wabash Ave,, and lived near him at 39 Hastings. Jacob, his son, was listed as a machinist at the 48 Hastings address. , -? -

Some of the memories o Aaron are as follows:

Aaron frequently visited his cousin Sarah Mandelbaum Joel to play cards, says David Nobel. He would empty his pipe sweeping the floor was "women's work."

Sylvia remembers Aaron well, When he was old, he had his own room at the back of the hardware store of Jake and Stella on Lincoln Ave. When Stella gave him a soup bone with meat on it he would say "Verdamtef You are too extravagant!"

" I got it for nothing--the grocer likes you," and then he felt better about eating the soup bone, Aaron liked Sylvia and always called her "Sophie". When he was very old, Aaron, the former cigar-maker, gave up smoking when the price of tobacco went up a half cent, Aaron was not orthodox, never went to a synagogue, Did not join the Masons, Aaron Mandelbaum died the 14th of November 1926 at the home of his friends the Peschels in Crete, Will county, Illinois at the age of 89 years and 3 months after living there the previous 11 months. He is buried at Free Sons of Israel Cemetery in Forest Park, Ill., where a neat, small stone marks his grave.

4. David MANDELBAUM (Jacob) was born on 13 Dec 1816 in Gehaus, Sachsen-Weimar, Germany.
David married UNKNOWN.

They had the following children.

- + 18 M i. Isaac MANDELBAUM.
- 19 F ii. Sarah MANDELBAUM-JOEL.
- 20 M iii. Meyer MANDELBAUM.

Sylvia remembers Aaron well, When he was old, he had his own. room at the back of the hardware store of Jake and Stella on Lincoln Ave. When Stella gave him a soup bone with meat on it he would say "Verdamtef You are too extravagant!"

" I got it for nothing--the grocer likes you," and then he felt better about eating the soup bone, Aaron liked Sylvia and always called her "Sophie". When he was very old, Aaron, the former cigar-maker, gave up smoking when the price of tobacco went up a half cent, Aaron was not orthodox, never went to a synagogue, Did not join the Masons, Aaron Mandelbaum died the 14th of November 1926 at the home of his friends the Peschels in Crete, Will county, Illinois at the age of 89 years and 3 months after living there the previous 11 months. He is buried at Free Sons of Israel Cemetery in Forest Park, Ill., where a neat, small stone marks his grave.

Aaron married<sup>1</sup> Lena (Leah,Lea) MANDELBAUM<sup>1</sup>, daughter of Baruch MANDELBAUM and Theresa SCHILD, in 1867. Lena was born on 10 Oct 1839 in Gehaus, Sachsen-Weimar, Germany. She died on 13 Mar 1884 in Dyer, Indiana.

9. Solomon MANDELBAUM (Daniel (Gedalia), Jacob) was born on 19 Nov 1842 in Gehaus, Sachsen-Weimar, Germany. He died in Kansas City.

According to Sylvia, his daughter, Jake left school to support himself and to run away to his uncle Solomon Mandelbaum in Nebraska by "hitch Hiking" on a grain. Bernice stated that Jacob quit school after the 4th grade and went to Nebraska, He loved it there and would tell his children later how he rode a horse bareback on a farm. Solomon Mandelbaum's son, also a Jacob Mandelbaum was tall and known as Big Jake from the country. Big Jake visited the Mandelbaum family in Chicago many times at the home above the hardware store on Lincoln Avenue, Big Jake, the 1st cousin of our Jacob D. Mandelbaum, was born to Solomon and Adaline (nee Weinberg) Mandelbaum about 1871 in Illinois (no doubt Chicago) according to the 1885 census of Webster county, Nebraska. Therefore, Big Jake was about It six years old when little 'Jake was born in 1877, Solomon and Adaline had only one other child, Carrie, born about 1870, who married Sam Grabschied of Pipestone, Minn, Adaline, age 62, wife of Solomon, died September 28, 1912, at her home, 4827 Harrison Street, Kansas City, Solomon Mandelbaum died at age 81 at the same home address in Kansas City on March 1st, 1924. According to the death certificate, his son Jacob was still living at the same home address at the time.

31. Jacob Daniel MANDELBAUM<sup>1</sup> (Aaron, Daniel (Gedalia), Jacob) was born on 15 Sep 1876 in Chicago, Cook, Illinois. He died on 13 Feb 1955 in Chicago, Cook, Illinois.

Jacob Daniel Mandelbaum, son of Aaron and Lena Mandelbaum, was born September 15, 1877 according to the records of the Grand Secretary of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of the state of Illinois. Their files show that he was raised in Prudence Lodge No. 958 on August 30, 1918 and died a member of good standing of that lodge on February 13 1955.

Jacob (Jake) was the 5th and youngest living child of Aaron and Lena, the 6th, a daughter, having died in infancy and the mother Lena, having died in confinement, March 13th, 1884 when Jake was but 6 years of age. Jake's other sisters at the time of the mother's death were Emma, age 15; Hanna, age 13; Rosa, age 11, and Irene, age 9. Their father, Aaron 'was 44 and never remarried. Jake and all his sisters were born in Illinois according to the 1860 census of Dyer, Indiana. Inasmuch as there is no record of them having lived outside of Chicago before going to Dyer, it is assumed that all were born in the city of Chicago.

According to Sylvia, his daughter, Jake left school to support himself and to run away to his uncle Solomon Mandelbaum in Nebraska by "hitch Hiking" on a grain. Bernice stated that Jacob quit school after the 4th grade and went to Nebraska, He loved it there and would tell his children later how he rode a horse bareback on a farm. Solomon Mandelbaum's son, also a Jacob Mandelbaum was tall and known as Big Jake from the country. Big Jake visited the Mandelbaum family in Chicago many times at the home above the hardware store on Lincoln Avenue, Big Jake, the 1st cousin of our Jacob D. Mandelbaum, was born to Solomon and Adaline (nee Weinberg) Mandelbaum about 1871 in Illinois (no doubt Chicago) according to the 1885 census of Webster county, Nebraska. Therefore, Bit Jake was about It six years old when little'Jake was born in 1877, Solomon and Adaline had only one other child, Carrie, born about 1870, who married Sam Grabschied of Pipestone, Minn, Adaline, age 62, wife of Solomon, died September 28, 1912, at her home, 4827 Harrison Street, Kansas City, Solomon Mandelbaum died at age 81 at the same home address in Kansas City on March 1st, 1924. According to the death certificate, his son Jacob was still living at the same home address at the time.

It is probable that Jacob D. Mandelbaum returned to Chicago by 1888 at the age of 10, although It is not known whether he went to Nebraska before or after the age of 10. The clue to this is the 1888 Chicago city Directory which`" Jacob Mandelbaum as a student at the Bryant & Stratton Chicago Business College, Perhaps that is too advanced a school for our Jacob and the listing refers to his uncle, Jacob Mandelbaum, the brother of Aaron. The uncle, would have been about 36 years old in 1888; perhaps he went to school to learn the real estate business, At any rate, Jake did go to night school and studied mechanical drawing. By the time he was 13 he lived in a boarding house, had a good job, and was completely self supporting, according to Bernice. At the age of 16, in 1893, he was listed as a "machinist", living ("boards") at 48 Hastings street, Chicago, the same address as his father Aaron Mandelbaum, who was listed as a salesman.

Early in the year 1899 Jacob D. Mandelbaum, age 21, married Estella Hambujer (Hamburg, Hamburger), daughter of Ephraim and Annie, who had moved from Detroit to Chicago in 1890. Stella had been born in Detroit December 19, 1881, the youngest of 11 children. She was 17 years old when she married. Apparently Jake had started his first store before he married. According to a news clipping from October 1939, he started a "look shop" which later became a bicycle shop at the space where Wiebolt's store is now at Lincoln and Belmont Avenues. "When Jacob Mandelbaum, the hardware merchant, came to Lincoln- Avenue in 1897 in that place, he paid only $8.00 a month rent." Stella had lived at 3250 Lincoln Avenue in a four-room flat over a candy store, as a young girl, according to another news clipping. "Her parents were offered the house and lot for $2,500 and they paid only $6.00 a month rent." This address is where the Bond Clothing store was at the time of the news article.

The hardware store on the corner of Lincoln and Newport that the children and grandchildren all remember so well was at 3430 Lincoln Avenue and the phone number was L.V. 5551, according to a 1939 newspaper advertisement. (Jake advertised: "Serving This Community for 41 years. Mandelbaum's Hardware. J.D. Mandelbaum, prop. Everything in Hardware Tools and Paints.")

"Aunt" Nora Coughlin was the housekeeper of this family for 53 years, according to Anna Leah, and she was so loved that she was regarded as a member of the family. She was a strict Catholic and it "never bothered Nora when Gram observed any Jewish holidays... Gram would buy her fish on Fridays and during Lent." Nora lived to a very advanced age with Stella in California.

The Lincoln-Belmont-Ashland Business Association, still a going concern, was formed in 1902 by three men, according to an old newspaper clipping. They were Jacob D. Mandelbaum, Charles Siegler, and Dr. Christian Keller, an optometrist. Dr. Keller had his office above the store of Roland Grayson on Lincoln Avenue and Jake's hardware store was across the street. Dr. Keller's son, by coincidence, now an old man, is an optometrist in St. Charles, Ill., the home of the author of this biography.

In January of 1945 the Lincoln-Belmont Booster newspaper announced that Mr, and Mrs. Jacob Mandelbaum, "owners of the Mandelbaum hardware store, 3430 North Lincoln, have sold the business to Bill Schmieg and will go in for fishing, loafing, and general leisurely living." The sale of the business occurred on Jan. 6th, 1945, after 46 years in the hardware business and 46 years of marriage. "Cheery Mr. Mandelbaum, who doesn't look his 68 years, says, 'We're both in good health so we're going to quit and enjoy life. My wife has helped me with the business all these years and, by gosh, she deserves a rest and some fun.'" They then "took it easy at their home address 1325 Newport."

Ten years later, Feb.13,1955, Jake died. Betty Lans Kahn saw him a few days before he died in the hospital. He told her what his favorite poem was and asked her if she would like to hear it. She said yes, and he recited it completely. The poem is beautiful. It is About Ben Adhem, by James Henry Leigh

Jake was 77 years old. He died leaving 4 children, 9 grandchildren, and 11 great grandchildren, according to his obituary in the Feb.,15, 1955 Chicago Tribune. He was given a Masonic burial by his nephew Daniel Maerker, and was interred initially at Ridgelawn cemetery, Chicago, then permanently at Hollywood Memorial Park Cemetery, Los Angeles, Calif.

Stella lived another 13 years. She died aged 86 on Feb. 7, 1968, in Los Angeles, Calif., and is buried at the side of Jacob in the Hollywood Memorial Park Cemetery.

Jacob married<sup>1</sup> Estella HAMBURG-MANDELBAUM<sup>1</sup>, daughter of Ephraim (Abraham) HAMBURGER (HAMBURG) and Anna (Hannah, Hanchen) DARMSTADTER, in 1899 in Chicago, Illinois. Estella was born on 19 Dec 1881 in Detroit, Wayne, Michigan. She died on 7 Feb 1968 in California.

Sylvia married<sup>1</sup> Roland Howard GRAYSON<sup>1</sup>, son of Howard GRAYSON and Una May TASKER-GRAYSON, on 1 Jun 1924 in Chicago, Cook, Illinois. Roland was born on 15 Apr 1903 in Indianapolis, Marion, Indiana. He died on 21 May 1989 in Geneva, Kane, Illinois. He was buried in Mt. Emblem Cemetery, Elmhurst, IL.

Roland "refused to be poor", so he went to work after graduating from grade school. He went to work at Sheridan Trust and Savings Bank at Lawrence and Broadway at age 15. His job was to carry a 32 and a 38 - two pistols with over $50,000 to the Loop. His parents encouraged him to quit school so they could get room and board from him to help support the three sisters. Roland went to the Methodist Church because it was close. Dad was a printers devil one summer, age 13-14 at a Methodist Book Concern. Howard and Una Mae went to church only when they had to. Howard worked 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., seven days a week and had so little time at home. He did not want to go to church.

Recognition of Retirement of Richard Roland Grayson, MD.
October 17, 2008 Introduction by Dr. Paul Gekas:

Richard Roland Grayson recently was made an honorary member of the medical staff at Delnor-Community Hospital after forty-five years of service. He joined the medical staffs of Delnor Hospital and Geneva Community Hospital in 1963, when he moved here from Elmhurst, Illinois, where he had been practicing since 1960. He was one of the first physicians in the area to practice the speciality of internal medicine. To that end, he served as the Chairman of the Department of Internal Medicine for three years and also was Committee Chairman of the Bioethics Department from 1990 to 1995. During this time, Dr. Grayson was a senior Federal Aviation Medical Examiner. He served the tri-city area by being Medical Examiner for the Department of Rehabilitation and Disabilities, taught a course on science and religion at Aurora University, was a member of the Saint Charles Board of Health from 1963 to 1990, and was a physician consultant for the Illinois Youth Center for a number of years. He also had a particular interest in the effects of stress on the body, especially its relation to peptic ulcer disease. In that regard, he founded the American Academy of Stress Disorders and served as its national president from 1971 to 1975. Richard Grayson was born in Chicago, Illinois, in 1925. In 1943, at age 17 He attended Wabash College in Crawfordsville, Indiana., he became an apprentice seaman in the U.S. Navy during WW II. He rose to the rank of Lt. j.g. He transferred to the University of Illinois and in a span of 3 1/2 years, obtained both a bachelor of science degree as well as doctor of medicine degree, graduating at age 22. Because there was no formal training in internal medicine at that time, he then spent two years at Cook County Hospital in their rotating internship program. He transferred to the US Air Force after internship at Cook County Hospital with the rank of Captain and took training as an aviation medical examiner.

The next ten years of his life were very prolific. From 1950 to 1952, he served in the U.S. Air Force, rising to the rank of captain. From 1952 to 1957, he was in private practice in Perryville, Missouri. Recognizing in 1958, that he needed more training if he wished to exclusively concentrate on diseases of adults, he took a fellowship in endocrinology and cardiology at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri. Dr. Grayson has published 36 articles in his lifetime, many of which were published between 1952 and 1960. He was the first person to describe diseases of the lung in silo fillers in the farms of Missouri. This article entitled, "Nitrogen Dioxide Pneumonia: A New Disease in Agricultural Workers", was published in the Annals of Internal Medicine. This was a significant landmark article in describing that condition for the first time ever. A few years later, he wrote an equally significant article which was published in the American Journal of Medicine, entitled "Factors Which Influence the Radioactive Iodine Thyroid Uptake Test". This article has been cited numerous times, both in other articles as well as textbooks and journals. Outside of medicine, Dr. Grayson has an FCC advanced amateur radio license and was a member of the Toastmasters, Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis. He is a member not only of the Mayflower Descendants, but also a member of the Society of the War of 1812 and of the Sons of the American Revolution. He is a member of the Sons of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, because his great-grandfather, Andrew Jackson Grayson, fought at the battle of Shiloh, under General Ulysses S.

Elburn Market, Inc. in downtown Elburn, IL, has been a meat market since 1904.

In 1954, selling high quality fresh meat and processing meat for farmers, Robert and Phyllis Ream bought the business and operated the store in rural Kane County. As the area started to change, Ream's Elburn Market has evolved into a specialized meat market with which no other store in the area can compare.

Around 1980, Randy Ream, Robert and Phyllis' son, started to learn the art of smoked meats and sausages. The store has become well known throughout the entire Chicago area for their award-winning sausages and smoked meats.

Randy Ream has won over 200 awards in state and national competitions. Randy has also earned his spot in the Cured Meat Hall of Fame! Ream's Elburn Market is an old-fashioned family owned business that specializes in knowledgeable, friendly service and high quality fresh meat, smoked meats, and other unique food items.

Short summary

When I was twelve years old, I loved animals. I had taken care of mice, hamsters, fish, parakeets, a chinchilla, and once even trained a baby robin to fly. At the same time, I was quite handy with computers, so I decided I would combine the two and become a robot scientist. Later on, I realized that there was another way to combine computation and biology, and I ended up spending five years as a Ph.D. student at Caltech, working on a research project involving viruses in the Rob Phillips Group. Since finishing up at Caltech, I have decided to get back to my robotics obsession by joining Pololu, an educational robotics company.

Other interests include running, hiking, and juggling, baking sourdough bread and brewing wine. I love to travel and attempt to speak Mandarin, German, and Russian when I get a chance. Thanks for stopping by!
